

IL-MAJJISTRAL
NATURE AND HISTORY PARK

Wintering Birds

IL-MAJJISTRAL NATURE AND HISTORY PARK in conjunction with BirdLife (Malta)

We will be joining up our guided walk with the expertise of BirdLife Malta Activities Coordinator Richard Cachia Zammit. Apart from the flora of the park we will be looking for the common wintering birds such as Robin, Black Redstart, Stonechat and more. These birds stay with us for up to 6 months and some can be seen easily even in urban areas. Anyone having a garden, even a small one, can enjoy them even more by putting up a bird table and watch them feed from the comfort of their home.

Bionote

Richard Cachia Zammit joined BLM in 1973 and throughout these years held various posts within Birdlife. He was also a licensed ringer and for almost 10 years was studying the Cory's Shearwater with John Borg. He is now Activities Coordinator for BLM.

DATE:
Sunday 2nd December
Meeting:
2pm Manikata Church

Length of walk – ca 5km,
3hrs circular route.

Booking: walks@majjistralt.org

Fee: Eur 5
Students: Eur 3
BirdLife members: FREE

Silence and binoculars are two suggested items to bring along. As well as something waterproof.

Photos: Male Stonechat by Aron Tanti

BirdLife Malta is a partner of BirdLife International, a conservation organisation operating in over one hundred countries and territories worldwide. It strives to conserve wild birds and their habitats. The organisation monitors activity that threatens wild birds, such as illegal hunting and trapping and urban development in conservation areas on the Maltese islands. Founded in January 1962 as MOS (Malta Ornithological Society), it is the oldest environmental organisation in Malta. BirdLife was instrumental in the creation of the Ghadira and Is-Simar nature reserves. Website: <http://www.birdlifemalta.org/>